

A photograph of four Buddhist monks in traditional orange robes walking away from the camera on a dirt path in Cambodia. The monk in the foreground is wearing a bright orange robe, while the others are in shades of orange and yellow. The monk on the right is holding a long, curved wooden staff. The background shows a dry, hilly landscape under a clear sky.

Kambodža

Petr Srp

putování mezi domorodci
na kole, motorce, lodi, na slonu
s obrazem a khméorskou hudbou čtvrtek 16.1.2020 od 18:00

Městské muzeum Skuteč